

Suggestions for using the ten joke props in the box ...

DOG POO - Leave this lying around to shock the next passer-by.

WHOOPEE CUSHION - Perfect to put under a thin cushion on a hard chair. Listen to the fun when someone sits down.

FLIES IN ICE - Casually drop the cube into your friend's drink. Watch the shock as they make the awful discovery.

STRETCHY SNOT - Easy to use – just slip the top part into your nose. Looks so real – Yuck! Blow your nose into a tissue and let go of the end and freak out your friends. Also glows in the dark! (to charge the glow in the dark, ask an adult to hold up to a light).

BIRD POO STICKERS - This pack of realistic bird poo stickers are a great prank to play on anyone. It's best to wait until the car is washed or the windows have been cleaned! Discreetly place these stickers on the car or on windows and wait for their reaction! They will be upset seeing that a bird pooped on their freshly washed car or nice clean windows. WARNING: Only stick on glass and not onto paintwork, as they may cause costly damage when removed.

SPILT NAIL POLISH - This trick will fool just about anyone. It is best to play it on someone who really uses nail polish, since it looks exactly like the real disaster. It is most effective on a highly polished table top.

NAIL THROUGH FINGER - Push your finger through the bandage with the nail twisted round to fit. Best shown with a moan of agony.

COCKROACHES - Handy for putting on dinner plates just before guests arrive to sit down for a meal.

FAKE EYEBALL - Hold the eye in your hand, with your fingers wrapped around the eyeball. Hold it to one of your eyes and appear in front of your friend moaning in pain and saying that your eyeball has popped out. You can also take your hand away from your face and show your friend the eyeball. Remember to close the eye as well.

SQUIRTING CHEWING GUM - Holding the Chewing Gum pack with the open end away from you, squeeze the pack and keeping it squeezed, place the nozzle end into some water. Stop squeezing to suck up some water into the gum pump.
Doing the Trick: Ask your victim if they would like to taste a new flavour of chewing gum you have just discovered. You can even ask them to smell the pack. When they get close to you squeeze the pack and squirt them with water.

HORRID PRACTICAL JOKES

10 Cracking DIY Practical Jokes

Age 8+

Practical Jokes are fun IF you use some common sense.
PLEASE MAKE CERTAIN your fun is not going to hurt someone else.

Hi and welcome to HORRID PRACTICAL JOKES. Ten jokes use the props in the box and here are another ten Practical Jokes you can play using everyday objects. ALWAYS do these jokes with the approval of an adult.

1. RAINING PAPER

Tear a sheet of paper into tiny pieces - enough to fill a lightweight, disposable plastic cup. Now open a door just a little and put the cup on the TOP EDGE of the door. The next person to open the door will be covered in confetti!

WARNING: ONLY use paper, and ONLY use a lightweight disposable cup. A heavier cup might hurt someone!

2. WORMY APPLE

For a great joke, poke a sweet gummy worm or two into an apple and give it to your victim for their lunch or a snack.

3. SMALL SHOES

Crumple up two tissues and ram them into the toe of someone's shoe. Push them in tightly and they'll never notice until they can't get their foot into their shoe.

4. SHORT TIGHTS

Turn someone's tights inside-out, tie a piece of thread tightly round it 5cm above the tip of the toe. Now pull them the right way out again. With luck your victim will be too sleepy in the morning to notice your joke until they try to put on their tights and find one leg longer than the other.

5. APPLE JUICE TO BLACKCURRANT

Put a couple of drops of red food colouring in the bottom of a glass. Hold it up so your fingers cover the bottom and pour in apple juice, the red colouring will make it look like the apple juice is changing into blackcurrant as your victim watches.

6. TOILET S.O.S.

For this one, you go into the bathroom and unroll the toilet paper a bit. Take a marker and carefully write a message on it that says, "Help! I'm trapped in a toilet paper factory." Then roll the toilet paper back onto the roll. The person who happens to be using the facilities when they see the message will get a good laugh, after they wonder for a moment if the message is genuine.

7. ICE CRISPIES

Pour some cereal and milk the night before and freeze it. In the morning put a little milk on the surface so it doesn't look suspicious and serve it to your victim. You will get the funniest looks!

8. SQUIRMING TOES

Put half a cup of water in a balloon and push it into the front of your victim's shoe. When they put it on they'll feel something wriggle at their toes - it's horrible. With so little water the balloon should not burst.

WARNING: NEVER DO THIS with a good pair of shoes.

9. EXPLODING DOOR

Tape a balloon to the door edge by the hinge. Tape a drawing pin, point-out, to the door frame right by the balloon. When the door is opened the pin explodes the balloon to the shock of your victim.

WARNING: NEVER try this on old people, or people with weak hearts.

10. FLYING MONEY

Glue one end of a 150cm length of dark coloured thread to one side of a £5 note. Now leave it by your desk, and hold onto the other end of the thread. When someone bends down to pick it up, tug the note away. Your victim will probably try a couple of grabs before they realise they've been had.
